Dear Professor Mearsheimer:

We are looking forward to your participation in the May 12-13 conference on "West Germany: Prospects for Change in the 1980s." We are now planning a small luncheon on May 12th in the State Department dining room, so that our invited guests and selected government participants can have an opportunity for less formal interaction. Unfortunately, government regulations prevent us from covering the charge of $7.00 for the buffet lunch.

[redacted] of my staff is organizing the luncheon and can be reached at [redacted]. Should you wish to attend please see him on the morning of the conference, when he will be making reservations and collecting money.

Dear Professor Markovits:

I am writing in connection with the conference on "West Germany: Prospects for Change in the 1980s" that is to be held here at the State Department on May 12 and 13. The purpose of my letter is to confirm your participation in the conference, and to initiate the required paper work.

In this regard, we will reimburse you for your travel expenses (including per diem) incurred in connection with the conference. In addition we will pay you an honorarium of $375.00 in return for which you agree to provide us with a short paper of about ten pages. I am enclosing a standard letter of agreement which covers the fee for your paper and the estimated cost of travel. If you find the letter satisfactory please sign it and return it to me in the envelope provided.

When you come to the State Department on May 12 and 13, please use the Diplomatic Entrance at 2201 C Street, N.W. Someone will be there from my office to direct you to Room 1107 where the conference will be held. We plan to get underway at 9:30 a.m. on both days.

If you have any questions regarding the conference or the letter of agreement please call me on (202) 632-3967.
